Logical Venn Diagrams

Venn Diagrams

Venn Diagrams are pictorial way of representation of a set of articles. There are different regions which needs proper understanding for solving problems based on logical venn diagrams.

Case I : When there are only two articles

Here I_A represents A only. (i.e. not B)
 I_B represents B only (i.e. not A)
 II_{AB} represents A and B only i.e. both A and B.

Case II : When there are only three articles

Here I_A represent A only (not B or C)
 I_B represents B only (not A or C)
 I_C represents C only (not A or B)
 II_{AB} represents A and B only (not C)
 II_{BC} represents B and C only (not A)

II_{AC} represents C and A only (not B) and
 III_{ABC} represents A, B and C only i.e. region which is common to A, B and C.

Case III : When there are only four articles

I_A represents A only (not B, C or D)
 I_B represents B only (not A, C or D)
 I_C represents C only (not A, B or D)
 I_D represents D only (not A, B or C)
 II_{AB} represents A and B only (not C or D)
 II_{AC} represents A and C only (not B or D)
 II_{BD} represents B and D only (not A or C)
 II_{CD} represents C and D only (not A or B)
 III_{ABC} represents A, B and C only (not D)
 III_{BCD} represents B, C and D only (not A)
 III_{ACD} represents A, C and D only (not B)
 III_{ABD} represents A, B and D only (not C)
 IV_{ABCD} represents A, B C and D all.
 i.e. region which is common to all A, B, C and D.

Note: A, B, C and D can be represented in form of a triangle, circle, rectangle or square. The logic behind venn diagram will remain unchanged irrespective of the type of figure.
