

Why I like my school

The school in which I study is an ideal one. That is why I like it. It is situated in an open place. The building is fine with big airy rooms. The school has two large play grounds, a library and a laboratory. A hostel is also attached to it. The strength of the students is nearly one thousand. The principal and the teachers are trained and qualified.

Our school is one of the best institutions in Delhi. The method of teaching here is so nice that the students take keen interest in their studies. Every care is taken for the mental development of children. Good action makes good citizens. The results of my school are always bright. Quite a good number of students win scholarships every year. There are two television sets in the school. Television lessons are very useful for the students.

Every facility is provided for the students. All kinds of books are available in the library. The school has two large play grounds, a library and a laboratory. A hostel is also attached to it. The strength of the students is nearly one thousand. The principal and the teachers are trained and qualified. Most of the students reside in the hostel. The hostel is well managed.

For physical training every student has to attend the playground. Besides athletics and games, the students take part in N.C.C. And scouting. Our school enjoys great reputation in sports. Medical aid is also provided for weak and sick boys. In short, our school has all the qualities that go to make an ideal institution. It has won a good name in Delhi. I am proud of it.
