

Jack and the Beanstalk

Steven Kellogg

Characters: Narrator, Jack, Mother, Old man, Giant

Scene 1 (at home)

- Narrator : Once upon a time there was a boy called Jack. He lived in a small cottage with his mother. Jack and his mother were very poor. All they had was a cow.
- Mother : Jack, we don't have any money. So, I think we have to sell the cow.
- Jack : Okay, Mom. I will take the cow to the market.
- Mother : Be careful, Jack.
- Narrator : On the way to the market, Jack met a little old man.
- Old man : Good morning, young boy. Where are you taking that cow?
- Jack : I'm taking it to the market, sir. My mother and I are poor, so we need some money.
- Old man : I would like to buy the cow from you.
- Jack : Really?
- Old man : I don't have money. Instead, I'll give you five magic beans.
- Jack : Magic beans? Mmm.
- Old man : They will make you rich.
- Narrator : Jack had to think about it. He wanted to make his mother happy.
- Jack : Okay! You can take the cow!
- Narrator : Jack ran all the way home. He was so excited to tell his mother about the old man and the magic beans.

- Jack : (running home) Mom, Mom, Mom! Look what I have got!
- Mother : Did you get a good price for the cow?
- Jack : No, Mom. But I got these magic beans instead!
- Mother : (angry) What? Oh, you foolish boy!
- Jack : Mom, they will make us rich! Trust me.
- Mother : No way! These beans are useless!
- Narrator : Jack's mother was very cross and threw the beans out of the window.

Scene 2 (on the ground & in the castle)

- Narrator : During the night, the magic beans grew into a huge beanstalk. By morning, the beanstalk reached high into the sky. Jack was so surprised.
- Jack : Wow! This beanstalk is huge!
- Narrator : Jack climbed and climbed and when he reached the top, he found a huge castle.
- Jack : Oh my! There is a castle in the sky! I can't believe this.
- Narrator : Jack crept inside.
- Jack : (whispering to himself) Everything is so big in here. Who lives in this big castle?
- Narrator : Suddenly, the floor began to shake.
- Jack : (scared) What is that noise?

- Giant : (shouting) Fee, fi, fo, fum, I smell the blood of an Englishman ... Be he alive or be he dead, I'll grind his bones to make my bread.
- Jack : (whispering) Oh no! It's a giant! What can I do? Is there any place to hide? Oh, there is a place.
- Narrator : Jack hid in a cupboard and watched as the giant ate five sheep for his meal. Then he called for his hen.
- Giant : Lay me a golden egg.
- Narrator : Jack watched in amazement as the hen laid a perfect golden egg.
- Jack : It's amazing! I wish I had that hen. Then Mom and I would berich.

Scene 3 (in the castle & at home)

- Narrator : As soon as the giant was full, he fell fast asleep.
- Jack : Now he is asleep. I will take the hen and climb back down the beanstalk.
- Narrator : Jack quickly picked up the giant's hen. But the hen began to squawk and flap its wings.
- Jack : Shh! Be quiet! The giant might wake up!
- Narrator : The giant woke up!
- Giant : (shouting) Fee, fi, fo, fum, I smell the blood of a human!
- Jack : (running) Oh no! Time to go!
- Narrator : Jack ran back to the beanstalk and climbed down as fast as he could!
- Giant : (yelling) I'll get you!
- Narrator : Jack reached the bottom of the beanstalk.
- Mother : Jack, where have you been? Why do you have a hen?
- Jack : Mom, hurry! Give me an axe!
- Mother : Here you are. What are you going to do with an axe?

- Jack : I have to chop this beanstalk down right now!
Narrator : With his axe, Jack chopped down the beanstalk.
Giant : Ahhhhh!

- Narrator : The giant fell to the ground with a thud. That was the end of him!
Mother : Oh my! It's a giant! Jack, what is going on?
Jack : The magic beans grew into this huge beanstalk. So, I climbed to the top and found the giant's castle. I watched this hen lay a perfect golden egg.
Mother : Are you telling me the truth, Jack?
Jack : (smiling) Yes, Mom. You'll see.
Narrator : Jack was right. The hen laid a golden egg every day and Jack and his mother were never poor again.

You may possess good language skills and know how to express yourself in the language but without the knowledge of punctuation marks, your skills, especially written, is incomplete. A piece of writing which does not include punctuation marks is difficult to read as compared to a piece of writing which carries proper punctuation marks at the right places.

Commonly used punctuation marks

1. Comma (,)

The comma is used to indicate a short pause. It is used:

a. for words, phrases, and clauses in a series.

➤ For example,

Gandhiji, the Father of the Nation, died on 30th January, 1948.

b. when you address a person.

➤ For example,

"Yes, Sir."

c. to separate numbers, dates and address.

➤ For example,

I was born on 9th August, 1990 in Lucknow, Uttar Pradesh.

2. Semicolon (;)

The semicolon represents a stronger pause than a comma. It is used to stress the close relationship between one sentence and another.

➤ For example,

Today we love what tomorrow we hate; today we seek what tomorrow we shun; today we desire what tomorrow we fear.

3. Colon (:)

The colon is used to show that something is to follow.

➤ For example,

The principle parts of a verb in English are: the present tense, the past tense, and the past participle.

4. Full Stop (.)

The full stop is used to mark the end of a declarative or an imperative sentence. It represents the greatest pause.

➤ For example,

Abirami, Suganya and Sudha are best friends.

5. Exclamation Mark (!)

The exclamation mark is used after interjections and after phrases and sentences expressing sudden emotion or wish.

➤ For example,

Alas! Oh dear!

6. Question Mark (?)

Question Mark is used, instead of the Full Stop, after a direct question.

➤ For example,

Have you finished writing?

7. Dash (—)

The dash is used to make an abrupt stop or change of thought.

➤ For example,

He has—you may not believe it—failed.

8. Inverted Commas (“ ”)

Inverted Commas are used to enclose the exact words of a speaker, or a quotation.

➤ For example,

"I would rather die," he exclaimed, "than join the oppressors of my country."

9. Apostrophe (')

Used to indicate either possession (e.g. Harry 's book ; boys ' coats) or the omission of letters or numbers (e.g. can ' t ; he ' s ; 1 Jan. ' 99).

10. Brackets ()

Each of a pair of marks () [] { } used to enclose words or figures so as to separate them from the context

➤ For example,

MS Dhoni (the former Cricket captain) resigned from cricket.

A) Punctuate the following sentences.

1. i like playing with my friends sandy sunny sameer
2. we went through the smoky mountains, near shimla on our way to leh
3. my favourite soap is pears and my favourite toothpaste is pepsodent
4. my friend priya speaks german and she is teaching me some words

LISTENING PASSAGE

“Why Do Birds Sing?”

Why do birds sing? You might assume that birds sing because they are happy. While birds might be happy, they sing in order to communicate. One reason they sing is to stake a claim on territory. Birds sing to warn other birds to stay off their property. For example, a robin might stake a claim on a piece of land which measures about 200 feet wide by 200 feet long. This amount of land provides enough worms for the robin to feed its family. A bird maintains singing perches around the outside edges of its territory. The perches are high in the trees, so other birds can see and hear it. Birds also sing to find a mate. The length and complexity of the mating song gives information about the fitness of the bird. Healthy birds can sing longer, more complicated songs. Birds call to one another in shorter vocalizations in order to warn of danger and to locate one another. Birds sing instinctively. Young birds learn to perfect their songs by listening to adult birds and interacting with other birds. Birds in a local area might learn variations in the basic song which help them recognize other members of their group.

Gardening is an art

Gardening is a delightful pastime. One can grow vegetables, fruits and flowers in one's own garden. If you do not have open spaces near your home for maintaining a garden you can set up a garden on your roof! All you need are a few old buckets or tubs, some mud and seeds to plant.

Did you know? The horticulture society of Tamil Nadu gives soil bags with seeds to promote gardening in our houses! Stamp collection is nothing but collecting stamps from envelopes that come by mail. This hobby is known as philately. We learn about different leaders, important days on seeing the stamps! We can also exchange rare stamps with our friends.

Many people are fascinated to collect coins from different countries. Sometime relatives who visit or work in other countries bring and give the coins of the foreign country to us! This hobby is known as numismatics. Some others take interest to collect seashells. It is said that there are more than 1,00,000 shell species found in the sea shores. The rarest, the most valuable, and the most beautiful shells are found in the Indo-Pacific, Caribbean, and Mediterranean regions.

Cooking is one of the oldest hobbies. It is now even considered a life-skill to know how to cook. We all should try and learn to cook! Painting can help unleash your creative side. Painting allows you to tap into the thoughts, desires, and feelings in your head and translate them into something beautiful.

Painting relaxes our mind and helps focus better, so go ahead and pick up a paintbrush. Teaching is a fun and useful hobby. Teaching helps us understand what we have learned better. It also helps us to help other children. If we are good at teaching then, one day we can even become a good teacher! Web-browsing helps us collect information about the latest medical invention, the new technology for phones and news about our society and country. It is an amazing hobby where we can learn about things that are thousands of kilometres away with just a few clicks! We can also share all the wonderful information with our friends.

Fleming's thought at breakfast

Sir Alexander Fleming, who discovered penicillin, was once forced into an interview in New York by two journalist just as he was about to have breakfast. One of them asked him, 'Sir, what are you thinking about right now? We wish to know what a great scientist think while getting ready for breakfast'.

Fleming mused awhile on the question and he replied, 'I am thinking of something very special'. The journalist, who were all ears, drew themselves forward. 'I am thinking, whether to have one egg or two'.

Nobel Prize

Since 1901, the Nobel Prize has been honoring men and women from all corners of the globe for outstanding achievements in physics, chemistry, medicine, literature, and for work in peace. The foundations for the prize were laid in 1895 when Alfred Nobel wrote his last will, leaving much of his wealth to the establishment of the Nobel Prize.

The Nobel Committee, in fact, a notoriously conservative body which among other things had a marked antipathy to pure sciences, especially to Mathematical Physics. Restrained by a clause in Alfred Nobel's will that the prize should go to the person whose 'discovery or invention' shall have conferred the greatest benefit to mankind, the committee initially ignored the great theoretical advances in Physics. Wracked, no doubt, by guilt that he had become a merchant of death through his invention of dynamite and smokeless powder and plagued by sadistic fantasies of destruction, the Swedish chemist, engineer and aspiring poet, Alfred Nobel, who has been described as Europe's richest vagabond, left his colossal fortune to the cause of progress in human knowledge. Five prizes were installed, one each for literature ('to the person who shall have produced in the field of literature, the most outstanding Work of an idealistic tendency'), Physics, Chemistry, medicine and peace to the person who shall have done the most or the best work for fraternity among nations for abolition or reduction of armies, and for holding or promotion of peace'.

Road Safty

Good morning, everybody. Firstly, I would like to thank the headmaster for inviting me to speak on road safety in conjunction with "Road Safety Week".

Lately, there have been many road accidents in our district. In most cases, they occurred due to carelessness and recklessness : speeding, flouting traffic rules, driving vehicles which were not roadworthy and driving under the influence of drugs or alcohol.

Last week alone, we received about four accident reports per day, with most of the accidents occurring during dusk and peak hours. Out of these, more than half were serious, in which victims had to be hospitalized.

Many of you present here already have driving licenses and the rest will get yours soon. What I want to impress upon you today is that you must make road safety your top priority. Do not take your driving license as a license to kill or to use roads as you like.

Drive or ride carefully and be considerate to other road users. When you are on the road, observe traffic rules and road ethics. Above all, be alert and keep calm. There may be times when you have to give way to other vehicles or let cars overtake you. Do not take this as an insult or a challenge to your pride. It could lead to violence on the road.

I know some youngsters enjoy the thrill of speeding and testing the capability of their machines. They enjoy listening to the revving of their bikes, riding at breakneck speed and overtaking vehicles dangerously. Tell me, what do you get by speeding ? Well, you may reach your destination faster but how much faster ? One minute ? Two ? Is it worth the risk of being involved in accidents, or worse still, being maimed or killed ? It's not worth it -- not worth your money, not worth your life. However, if you still feel generous and would like to donate your money to us, then speed by all means. I assure you we'll give you a ticket.

Common sense should prevail at all times. these are some practical rules on road safety you should always bear in mind.

Dear friends!

This is Rahim. I hope you will lend your ears for two minutes to me on this happy occasion of the 13th birthday of my friend Rahul. Before he blows out candles on his cake and cut the cake to mark the first day in his 13th year, I would like to share few words with you. Rahul and I grew up from kids. He is an open book for me and for everyone. I have observed the fine determination he is built with. His strong friendship has stood by me many times. When I hurt him, he wrote over the sand. When I help him, he engrave it in his heart. Only if you're lucky, you'll find a person like him who brightens your day, lends an ear, and inspires you. I am grateful to him for life.

He excelled in various ways already in his life. I wondered his ability to do well in whatever he found himself engaged in. Besides being a good student, he has done well in sports and games. He is always in the front line and bagged 'all-rounder' medal in school.

I wish him all the happiness with which he should sail through life. Best of luck to you Rahul, and May we always see you smiling like this. Please give him a big hand!

Unit – 7

Internet Safety

Twenty years ago, kids in school had never even heard of the internet. Now, I'll bet you can't find a single person in your school who hasn't at least heard of it. In fact, many of us use it on a regular basis and even have access to it from our homes! The 'net' in internet really stands for network.

A network is two or more computers connected together so that information can be shared, or sent from one computer to another.

The internet is a vast resource for all types of information. You may enjoy using it to do research for a school project, downloading your favorite songs or communicating with friends and family.

Information is accessed through web pages that companies, organizations and individuals create and post. It's kind of like a giant bulletin board that the whole world uses! But since anyone can put anything on the internet, you also have to be careful and use your best judgment and a little commonsense.

Just because you read something on a piece of paper someone sticks on a bulletin board doesn't mean it's good information, or even correct, for that matter.

So you have to be sure that whoever posted the information knows what they're talking about, especially if you're doing research! But what if you're just emailing people? You still have to be very careful.

If you've never met the person that you're communicating with online, you could be on dangerous ground! You should never give out any personal information to someone you don't know, not even your name!

And just like you can't believe the information on every website out there, you can't rely on what strangers you 'meet' on the internet tell you either. Just like you could makeup things about yourself to tell someone, someone else could do the same to you.
