

Your Aim in Life

Life is very complex today. There is competition at every step of life. Still, one must do something to earn a living. Everybody must have an aim in life. If a man has no aim, he cannot succeed in life. He cannot do anything great or praiseworthy. In fact, life without an aim is like a ship without a rudder, a plane without a pilot or an envelope without an address. One must, therefore, follow some or the other aim in life. To me, the teaching profession appears to be the noblest and best. I, therefore, shall become a teacher and adopt teaching as my profession. The profession of a teacher is a highly honorable one. A teacher gets a chance to lead a peaceful life. He sets no store by worldly attractions. He is contented with what he has. A dedicated teacher is a missionary. His ideals are simple living and high thinking. He is wedded to service and scholarship. He is not disturbed by the material prosperity of his fellow beings. As a teacher I will make the character of my students very strong. A teacher is a nation builder. He guides the destiny of his students. He can mould them into any shape. He teaches them both by example and by precept. I hope I shall be able to achieve my aim.
