Preface

We live in a wide and varied world and yet we share a common bond. The history of humankind is marked by efforts to ensure respect for the dignity of all. The concept of human rights was introduced and developed by thinkers from various cultural and religious traditions. Important contributions to the promotion of this idea was made by statesmen and lawyers and gradually written norms establishing the protection of the rights of individuals were inscribed in national laws.

Steps were also taken to establish international human rights standards, in particular in the nineteenth century and after the First World War. However, it was only in the second half of the twentieth century that a comprehensive international system of human rights promotion and protection was set up. This was mainly due to the efforts of the United Nations, its specialized agencies and regional intergovernmental organizations.

This course of study also explores gender issues. The human sex ratio in the world clearly indicates that the world rightfully belongs equally to both the sexes. A gender imbalance creates malady and impacts on social constructs leading to issues related to stereotyping, discrimination and gender-based violence. Gender discrimination is again a human rights' issue.

Education directly or indirectly, serves the interest of furthering human rights and sensitivity towards gender. Albert Einstein, the scientist, once said, "The concern for Human beings and their destiny is the prime objective of all scientific and technical efforts. Never forget it in the midst of your diagrams and equations." The purpose of all education is to sensitise, to humanize, to take humanity to higher levels of knowledge, awareness, freedom and social responsibility. If we lose the meaning of education in its wholesomeness, we will end up creating a world without human values or justice, and ultimately, without progress, too.

The course in 'Human Rights and Gender Studies', is an effort by the Board to engage today's generation in creating a better world- of love, friendship, compassion, beauty, creativity, freedom and equality. Further, students will also be introduced to such values that are necessary and essential for the promotion and achievement of stable and harmonious relations among communities and fostering mutual understanding, tolerance and peace. Through the learning of human rights as a way of life, a fundamental change can be brought about to eliminate and eradicate poverty, ignorance, prejudice, and discrimination based on gender, caste, religion, disability or any other form of disadvantage.

Keeping in view the social unrest today, such education is the need of the hour in order to provide opportunities for students at the school level to develop and practise mutual respect and have concern for human rights and gender issues.

The course book is a result of the effort of a number of organizations and individuals. The Board wishes to express its sincere gratitude to all organizations for their contributions, in particular to the National Human Rights Commission. The National Mission for Empowerment of Women (NMEW), MWCD, Government of India.

I appreciate the effort of Dr. Sadhana Parashar, Director (Academics, Research, Training and Innovation), CBSE and Ms. Neha Sharma, Deputy Director (Examination Reforms), CBSE who have been involved in the development of this textbook.
