

On Getting a Job Dear

Dear Omkar,

We are all gratified and grateful to God on your success in getting a job, entirely with your own efforts, when the Employment Exchange had thrown cold water on your high hopes. Incidentally, you have learned the great lesson of pushing to the front without being fed by uncle Scrooge's favours.

Although your present post is a small one, we have no doubt that with your creativeness and courage of convictions you will go far in success and be the staff of life to your mother and sisters.

Wishing you well on the first rung of your glorious ladder.

Yours very affectionately,
