

If I were the mayor of Delhi corporation

Those who live in Delhi very well know what this city is in spite of its importance. It stands no comparison with other capitals of the world. Much bigger sound the names New York, London, Paris, Berlin, Moscow and Tokyo. If I were the Mayor of Delhi Corporation, I would try to take effective steps to raise the standard of the capital of India.

What are the defects or the shortcomings of life in Delhi? Let me make a list of them. On the other hand let me have a correct judgment of my powers as a Mayor and then I would be able to say what I would do as a Mayor of the Corporation. A Mayor cannot do much unless he has the solid support of Councilors for myself to ensure that my policies and actions are successfully executed.

The first thing I would do would be the uprooting of bribery root and branch. It is said that money makes the mare go. But in the office of the Corporation, even an ant cannot go unless money is paid. Roads are repaired only in the files and payment is made. Money that was to be spent for milk to children is made. Money that was to be spent for milk to children is spent to gratify officials. I do not go into the length of the story, but as a Mayor, I would see that this practice vanishes.

I would try my best to provide facilities for the compulsory education of each and every child of the State. I would raise the standard of education. Every day, we hear complaints from the standard of education. Every day we hear complaints from parents that no work is being done in schools, Is it at all creditable for the teachers working in schools? I would first of all ensure proper standards in primary education. My next step would be to remove insanitary and unhealthy conditions of living. Nothing upsets me to so much as the existence of slum areas, poor condition of roads, filthy adulteration of food stuffs, defective water supply, of drains, and unhealthy system of lavatories. I would try to make Delhi as clean as possible. I would have all the houses electrified.

I would stop the dishonest practice of adulteration. It is difficult to get anything pure these days, Oil, ghee, milk, spices, tea, flour everything is mixed with something cheaper. This undesirable mixing would be stopped by me. I would also .like to start Happy Clubs for children and a large number of new hospitals and health centers. This is the minimum; I would like to do if I were the Mayor of Delhi Corporation.
