

Congratulations on Marriage

Dear Vijay,

The tidings of your marriage with Shakuntala has delighted us all beyond measure. With all her charm and loveliness, she is a girl in a million. Though you are rather late in marriage, the rest of your lives are going to be very happy indeed.

The wonderful news has cast a spell on our household. Even the maidservant, who served you last, is dancing with delight. It has put aside our grave assumptions that you were going to be confirmed bachelor for the rest of your life. Our best congratulations to the girl who made your mind.

Give her our affectionate greetings and do not fail to inform us when next you pass through Delhi to Kanpur so that we may have the greater pleasure of meeting your bride and wish "you-all" in person every good fortune.

Ever affectionately,

Vinay Khosla

Congratulations on a Marriage-2

Dear Ashok and Meenakshi,

We were thrilled to hear about your wedding. Surinder and I send you our love, and best wishes for every happiness that life can bring.

Do let us know when you return to Poona, so that we can give you your congratulations in person.

I hasten to congratulate you and hope that every year of your married life will increase your happiness.

Affectionately,
